BRYAN LAD MEETS HORRIBLE DEATH

Nine Year Old John D. Conlee Jr. Killed by Train at Humble—Was on Visit There to Relatives.

The entire city was shocked this morning when it was announced that young John D. Conlee, Jr., had been killed by a train at Humble, Texas. Information regarding how the accident happened is meager inasmuch as the telephone service there was bad. All the particulars that could be learned was that the boy was riding on a wagon with his uncle who lives there and a Southern Pacific train hit the wagon with the above results. Little John is about nine years old and is the son of Mr. Will Conlee of this city and a grandson of City Marshal John D. Conlee, he being named for his grandfather. The boy, in company with his grandmother went to Humble only a few days since on a visit to Mrs. Conlee's daughter, Mrs. R. S. Edmonds, and her son, Mr. Ross Conlee, and family.

The remains will be shipped this afternoon to this city and the father of the child accompanied by his father, Mr. John D. Conlee, will meet them in Houston returning to this city at 12:30 tonight. The funeral will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Conlee tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and interment will be in the City cemetery.

The Eagle joins with the many friends of this family in extending sympathy at such a trying time.

STRIKE BILL BEING RUSHED IN CONGRESS

Eight Hour Law Will Save the Day. Must Be in Effect Saturday Night at Midnight.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Sept. 1.—Bills to avert the railway strike have been put on the way to passage in both houses of Congress. Under special rules providing for a vote not later than 4:30 today the House took up the Adamson eight hour bill, which is approved by President Wilson and accepted by the brotherhood leaders as a "satisfactory settlement."

The Senate commerce committee bill was introduced at 2 o'clock by Senator Newlands. It contains a provision empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix schedules of wages on interstate railways. It was referred to the commerce committee and the Senate is expected to remain in session until the whole subject is disposed of.

The Adamson bill was favorably reported by the House committee, which amended it to make the eight hour provision effective January 1st. The bill was immediately reported to the House. In the meantime the rules committee held a meeting and favorably reported a hitch in the rule providing for two hours' debate on the bill and the vote on the bill itself and any amendments in the House at 4:30. The members of the rules committee said under this rule the bill should pass the House shortly after 5 o'clock.

Efforts are still being made to induce the brotherhoods to call off the strike, but they are standing firm and will not do so unless the bill becomes a law by Saturday midnight.

Bulgaria at War With Rumania.
London, Sept. 1.—The Rumanians have occupied Petroseny, an important industrial center near Kronstadt, Transylvania, says the Rumanian war official statement. Four German aeroplanes were brought down and another captured. Paris announces the French artillery was very active last night on the Somme sector. The surrender of several Greek garrisons to the committee which has taken over the administration of part of Greek Macedonia, was reported in Renter Salonika dispatches. The same dispatch says there has been fighting between the Greek garrison and Greek volunteers recently organized to assist the Greek regulars, who were resisting the Bulgarians in Macedonia. The French troops intervened and the garrison marched out of Salonika.

In battles yesterday the Russians captured 298 officers and 15,501 men, of which 2,400 were Germans, says Petrograd. Bulgaria has declared war on Rumania, according to Reuter's Salonika correspondent. Artillery bombardments continue, but there is nothing important in the Balkan situation, says Paris. The Germans penetrated the British defenses at two points between Ghinchi and Highwood after five successive attacks last night, London announces.

Law Passed by 34th Legislature Requiring Wash Houses for Miners Is Effective Today.

(By Associated Press.)
Austin, Texas, Sept. 1.—The law passed by the Thirty-fourth Legislature, requiring mine owners and operators to provide wash houses for the miners, became effective today. C. W. Woodman, state labor commissioner, says practically all of the mines in the state have been equipped with this convenience.

A short time ago Commissioner Woodman made an inspection of the mines of the state and found most of them equipped with wash houses. After today those mine owners who have not complied with this law are liable to prosecution. A heavy fine is provided for violation of the law. There is no disposition on the part of the state, it is said, to punish those operators who desire to comply with the act.

PLENTY OF CASH IN STATE TREASURY

New Fiscal Year Opens Today in the Comptroller's Department With Four Millions on Hand.

(By Associated Press.)
Austin, Texas, Sept. 1.—With approximately four million dollars in cash in the state treasury, three million of which is to the credit of the general revenue fund and one million to the credit of the available school fund, the new fiscal year of the state comptroller's department opened today.

This is the first time in a number of years that there has been such a healthy balance at the beginning of the fiscal year, and there are slight chances of a deficit. The money on hand will be ample to meet the state's obligations until the tax collections begin to pour into the state treasury. Collections commence in December and heavy remittances are made in that month, January, February and March.

There also became available today appropriations amounting to about seven million dollars for the support of the state government for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1917.

NEW INTERURBAN TERMINAL OPENS

New Interurban Terminal at Dallas Is Opened to the Public Today—It Cost Million and a Half.

(By Associated Press.)
Dallas, Texas, Sept. 1.—Formal opening of Dallas' new interurban terminal station, the largest of its kind in the United States, was scheduled for today, when the entire building, with all its conveniences, was to be thrown open to the public for inspection and general use. The building was recently completed at a cost of $1,500,000. First cars on all interurban lines out of Dallas to be operated from this station was another feature of the opening.

The building is eight stories in height, with dimensions of approximately half a block. The remainder of the block on which the building stands is used for truckage and car sheds. With the exception of the first floor, on which is located waiting and baggage rooms, ticket offices and trainmen's quarters, almost the entire building is used for office purposes.

There are truckage facilities under cover to handle twenty-four cars at one time. These tracks will be used by the trains of the North Texas Traction Company, the Texas Traction Company and the Southern Traction Company.

The building, which is owned by the Dallas Interurban Terminal Association, is regarded as an example of record breaking reinforced concrete construction. Excavation was commenced on December 11, 1915, and the building was finished completely today, four months ahead of contract specifications.
